

Benefits of owning a ReAbility Center®

By owning your ReAbility Center®, you can focus on the goal of continuing to increase functional movement in those with physical disability and chronic health conditions.

Within your community, your ReAbility Center® license will make you a powerful player in reaching this goal.

A ReAbility Center® license can further develop independent living skills within your current and future patient population and help them to prevent or reduce chronic illnesses as over the past 30 years the LDRC system has shown that it can...

- Help alleviate the health and economic burden of physical disability
- Reduce the risks of losing independence
- Enable patients to maintain independent living in their home and community
- Lessen early-onset physical disabilities attributed to disease and health conditions

LifeDesigns ReAbility Center® (LDRC) was founded in 1984 by Tad and Joanne Duni.

Joanne, a physical therapist, and Tad, a movement scientist have developed a proven sustainable system that uses the principles of Activity Based Restorative Therapy (ABRT) Locomotor Training (LT) to “re-train” clients suffering from the traumas of spinal cord injury, brain injury and other chronic illnesses.

LDRC is one of the first affordable ReAbility Centers in America. Owning a ReAbility Center® provides you with a valuable link between patient and doctor by training each client in the steps needed to develop and maintain an independent lifestyle and remain active in their community.

Filling the healthcare void

Imagine all avenues of physical or occupational therapy exhausted or a medical team at a loss on how to maintain the quality of life and health of a loved one.

Are there solutions? More often than not the solutions involve complicated surgeries along with their inherent risks. Injections and more drugs for pain.

Homebound in a wheelchair for comfort or safety.

The resolutions of expensive in-home long term care or placement in a nursing home.

The healthcare void for these individuals is real. Families, through no fault of their own face this each and every day.

Is there a next step? Yes there is.

The next step:

A Life Designs ReAbility Center®

Your clients can now receive continued training on standing, walking, and transferring safely from chair to bed or car with minimal assistance.

After being told by countless rehabilitation programs that they would never walk again and that they should prepare for long term care, your ReAbility Center® program will help them regain enough physical strength to remain safe at home with minimum of support.

Upon referral from a friend, family member, or member of their medical team many clients receive grants from several Foundations and Charities associated with LDRC.

Now, you can own a ReAbility Center®, too!

Life Designs ReAbility Center® is a very successful prototype poised to be replicated into other clinics throughout America.

The primary objective of a ReAbility Center® program is to provide long-term, affordable ABRT & LT accessible year round.

Your ReAbility Center® will help to further develop independent living skills of your patients and help them prevent or reduce additional chronic illness.

Outpatient Rehabilitation is a $29.6 billion industry that is expected to grow 7% annually through 2018. Let us help you grow with the industry with our proven ABRT cash business that helps you acquire new billable clients and retain your client base.
